Sad Story of Love in Student Days.

It is just about twelve years ago that I was doing a tour in the West Indies with my Pater who was in charge of the Scottish Oathedral in one of the largest Colonics there. I had gone out for my health as one fool of a medico had arrived at the conclusion that I had been studying too much and had injured my alleged brain. To me this seemed too funny for words, as I was more often at the front desk than on the back form. However, go I did and for a year enjoyed the society of my dear old dad, since gone to another aphere. I also had about the best time I ever had in my life and sorry I was when the time came for me to board the "Medway" to land me at Plymouth. I learned a lot during that year and met many good people whom I shall never forget. In the West Indies one can have a glorious time of it. Life is slightly different in many ways in the East and, of the two, I prefer that of West. That may, in a degree, be the result of the two experiences; in the West I was on holiday-in the East I have to do some

Being a "son of the manse," I came into contact very much with the wearers of "the cloth" and fine fellows they are in the West. One of those whom I met was Bishop Branch of St. Kits and, as he had a gon of about my own age, we chummed a lot. Ted was going Home shortly to finish his education and it was arranged by our respective Paters that we should both go together in a few months' time. Didn't we shake paws when we heard

We had a glorious time of it on board going Home. We had a free run of the B. M. S. P. Coy,'s ship and kept every officer in a state of despair and right glad they were (and sorry) to get rid of the two young scamps when we landed at Ply

The usual whistle below our rooms was the first line of "Maid of Athens" and was disturbed in the wrangle with Xenophen one evening during my Varsity days of "stewing" by Chum Branch whom, as I have said, I had met in the West Indiesa few years previously. I made the usual signal with the curtain and, in a few minutes. Chum had mounted the stairs and with a "How do, old chap?" throw his lanky legs on the regulation "digs" sofa. Student days are generally impecunious and the only hospitality I could offer was a glass of milk and biscuits and choose. To my surprise Branch refused, and, as I knew Branch always had an appetite which was equal to devouring even the pattern on the plate-if the buxom landlady had one left, I turned round with surprise and glared at him. The glare revealed the fact that Branch was not as fit as one would have expected him to be after his excellent exposition at Rugger the provious day. Branch, I may mention, was a triple Blue and a splendid specimen of what the Colonies can present to the Mother Country.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

"What's up, old man?" "Oh, I don't know Chum. Everything seems to go wrong." I then remembered that the West Indian

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY. This is thenge of research and experiment, while all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientistic no the comfort and happiness of man. Science has undeed made glant strides during the past century, and among the-by no means least important disc teries in inedicine comes that of Therapion, naturalars of which will be found in another column. This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable l'atent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Roston, Johert, Velpeau, Maisonneuve, the well-known Chassalgnac, and indeed by all those who are regarded as authorities in such matters, including the celebrated Lallemand, and Roux, by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that It is worthy the attention of those who requires uch a remedy we think there is no doubt. From the time of Aristotle downwards, a potent agent in the removal of these diseases has take the famed philosopher's stone) been the object of scarch of some hopeful, generous minds; and far beyond the mere power—if such could ever have been discovered—of transmuting the baser metals into gold is surely transmitting the baser metals into gold is surely the discovery of a remedy so potent as to replenish the failing energies of the comfirmed rouf in the one case, and in the other so effectually, speedily and safely to expel from the system without the aid, or even the knowledge, of a second party, the poisons of acquired or inherited disease mall their poisons. Some as to leave notation or trace behind. protean forms as to leavenotaint or trace behind, Such is The New French Remedy Therapion, which may certainly rank with, if not take precedence of, many of the discoveries of our day, about which no little estentation and noise have been made, and the extensive and ever-increasing demand that has been created for this medicine wherever introduced appears to prove that it is destined to cast duced appears to prove that it is destined to cast into obliviou all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. At the Shanghai Cathedral on Sunday morning last a large congregation attended to pay a last honour to the memory of the late Bishop of Victoria. Bishop Moule in the course of his sermon said he was glad that there were present leading churchmen of the American Church in Shanghai, as well as representative presbyters from Hankow, all of whom mourned the loss of Bishop Hoare. catechists and clergy would have accepted the Dean's invitation to the service. The preacher then dwelt on the sterling qualities of Bishop Hoare, - as Christian, a missionary, a sportsman and a friend. He mourned the loss to hi 12.65 relations and to the whole Church in Chine -not least to Bishop I'rice who had just come out to rule part of the large Diocese that was formerly solely under Bishop Hoare's care. The preacher dwelt also upon the difficulty of understanding why such calamities should be allowed, but exhorted his hearers to faith in Go 1, who has overruled the greatest evils to the highest ends. Every detail of the service was carried out with care and reverence. The Church was draped in black, palms and white flowers being introduced into the chancel. At the Union Church Dr Gilbert Reid said they might well join with their friends of a sister Church in giving expres sion to the great loss which they and all Christians in China felt in the death of the Bishop of Victoria. By his years of missionary service in Ningpo, and later by his wise direction of the important diocese of South Chins, he had left an influence of incalculable good, which his death was not able to terminate. In a happy com- look see " method, are well worth watchmingling of evangelistic and educational work the late Bishop was a type of the true missionary, and by his manly and intellectual character, united with devotion, love and a reverential and ferrent spirit he had shown what a true Christian might be in the Far

It is understood that the "Pleiades" the Boston Tow Boat Co. sailed away without its ship's papers deposited with the Consulate of its country (United States) This, is evidently a serious offence as i is understood that the American Consul General, after cabling the Washington Department, sent the papers back to the States, leaving the ship on her journey from port to port without credentials. One can readily see that if a ship's Captain got the idea that it was an easy matter to have his papers sent after him, the precedent would be bad.

THE CONSTITUTION OF CHINA.

The impending regeneration of China, the probable dissolution of the Colestial he was 52 years of age. He wrote much Empire in the immediate future, the on the industries that engaged his attention. symptoms of incurable decay, and the prohad appeared before scientific societies, and spects of what an accomplished diplomatist, awakening of the middle kingdom from the slumber of ages, have in turn been foretold by people who profess to have an intimate knowledge of the state of things in the Far East with a confidence which has never yet been justified, says a leading article in the Standard. The signs in the heavens, who ther of a new dawn or of a final cataclysm have always proved to be illusive. The frequency with which even experienced observers have been beguiled in the past does not encourage us to draw very certain Had it been possible to arrange it, native or sanguine conclusions from the present talk about contemplated reforms and a Constitution. The unchanging East of the poets, we are well aware, does sometimes undergo extraordinary transformations, which are as rapid as they are unexpected. It is safer, therefore, not to be too confident that we shall not hear within the next ten or fifteen years of a Chinese mandarir moving a vote of censure on the Emperor's Ministers without risking his personal liberty, or of a pig-tailed Minister for War submitting an army budget to the consideration of the elected representatives of an Empire which includes races in every stage of civilisation and barbarism. Such things may come to pass, and the Chinaman has a genius for imitating devices of the "foreign devil"; though the nativemade rifle will not always go off, and the House of Commons, à la Chinoise, may not serve any practical purpose even if it is convoked by a decree written in the Imperial vermilion. Still, the first steps towards the adoption of representative government on the Western model, though they may lead nowhere in particular, and ing. It will be remembered that some little while ago a travelling Commission of eminent Chinese statesmen and officials was sent to England to report on our system of government. Duke Tsai Tseh, Tuan Fang, a provincial Viceroy, Tsai Hung Tse, vicepresident of the Board of Trade, and one or two others composed the deputation. The Commissioners--and it is difficult not to sympathise with them -found glorious Constitution just a little complicated. With the aid, however, of some submitted it respectfully to the Throne. In regard to some points they were not worth imitating; and though this may not be flattering to our national pride, it the other hand, there were many things, they said, which China would do well to copy. THE YARN MARKET

Messrs Cawasjee, Pallaujea and Co. report under date of Oct. 4:-Our last was dated the 21st ultimo, per s.s. "Devanha," since when the market has been practically closed, and no sales have been eff. cted. It was then mentioned that at the request of the Chinese dealers importers allowed them a further extension of two months (till 17 h November) in which to clear their purchases. Two weeks have rearcely passed since the concession was granted when they demand further facilities, pleading the failure of the rice crop and consequent distress in the country. Moreover, the country buyers being aware that stocks in Hongkong are largely increasing by incessant large arrivals and that a high exchange is keeping prices down and will still depress the market, are keeping entirely sloof and are not buying at present. Under the circumstances the dealers allege that they are unable to take delivery of their old purchases and are therefore endeavouring to throw a por ion of their loss on the shoulders of the im orters, and demand longer time for clearance and ask for many other impossible conditions which the importers are not inclined to accept as the losses of the dealers are very excessive. Matters have come to such a pass that it is impossible to move in any direction and it is the general opinion that unless the Mills in Bombay adopt short time and curt il production and shipments to China greatly checked the market here will continue depressed. Arrivals per steamers "Suisan Apear" and "Laisang," of about 6,736 bales. Shipment to Shanghai and Northro Ports of about 6,000 bales. The unsold ascendency from the inside, and he has stick is estimated at about 92,500 tales. In their report Mesrs P. B. Petit and

Reference has to be made to a circular of far-reaching import just issued by the nine infpertant a change of policy ought to have leading firms of Chinese dealers in Cotton | been announced by Mr Bryce or the Prime yarn in the Colony, viz. Fook Hing, Sun Hing, Kung Hing, Yan Cheong, Fook On are only a new variation of the "makee Cheong, Kwong Lun Cheong, San-Hung, very like it in his election address and we E Yuen, and Hung Kee. The circular may fairly regard Sir Antony Macdonnell's recites the bad times experienced by agric- speech as a bollon d'essai. If the cat jumps ulturists in South China and the bad crops which are responsible, among other causes, for the greatly reduced consumption of Cotton yarn as compared with former years. Country traders possessed of the knowledge of the prevailing general stagnation, with large stocks in band and no immediate prospect of their being disposed of, decline to purchase, as they enticipate a fall in price when yarn is to be had everywhere end in such large quantities. To aggravate the situation the further fall in the value of the Rupee has materially helped to bring down the price of yara It is a poor outlook when the aforesaid circularists declare that, "on account of English friends they drew up a report and this general stagnation, the capital of the Chinese yarn dealers has now totally disappeared and further monies put into the ousine a bave, in every instance totalling opinion that the English Constitution was a veral times the original capital, likewise vanished." They seek relief from Foreign Hoogs and Importers, or "hankruptey and ruin will be the certain consequence. is quite possible that they were right. On It is a pathetic appeal that is made. A set of five propositions has been formulated which the Chinese firms have submitted for "serious and kind consideration." The propositions are textually as follows : _

pay 1/3rd of any difference in purchase Dean Stubbs to Ely. The Dean will be a price with present value on taking delivery. and the balance of 2/3cds he paid by a Promissory Note for 12 months, such lecturer on social subjects, imbued with Promissory Note to be made at the end of the civic ardour of Charles Kingsley, and the current month when the total of the

LONDON LETTER.

(From Our Correspondent.)

London, August 31.

We learn this week that President Roosevelt has undertaken the cause of spelling reform in the phonetic direction. This was a favourite fad of the late Sir Isaac (who signed his name Eizak) Pitman, but his sons, who inherit the business, have no sympathy with it and the firm have long ceased the publication of phonetically printed matter. Most European languages are supposed to be purely phonetic already but they all show dialectic variations. The South American Spaniard sounds Z like S, and if we adopted Phonetic spelling we should have the northerner writing! 'baby.' while the Londoner wrote 'biby.' It would reduce the whole of our present and past literature to the guise of an unknown tongue (the geiz oy an unmone tung) and we should have need of an academy to decide how words. should be pronounced and, in consequence, spelled or spelt. President's English has distinguished converts, like in the near virtue. It is an open secret that the printer is the regulator of the spelling of most literary men. Lord Macaulay was said to spell like a washerwoman, and to-day The Times will allow correspondent ample license for heresy but he must substitute -ize for the popular -isc even writing "civilize" where

"civilise" is indubitably correct. A table

We have known for the whole of this year that the party in power have as their religious opinion the cult of the jumping cat. Twenty years ago an Irish member told me in conversation, "The fact is Mr Gladstone is simply the last man's man. If I get the last word with him he will adopt my opinious, if you do, yours. But THEY ARE which ever side he takes he will find plenty of argument to defend it. So the Liberal have found many masters and are subservient to each in turn. They wait to see which way the cut will jump, and then seasoned at our Factory here. they jump likewise. One inconvenience in this attitude is that you cannot fortell the direction of saltation until the quadruped has been let out of the bag. Sir Antony Macdonnell did this for them last week When the late Government were in the last stage of senile decay, they gave this avowed Nationalist an Under-secretaryship at Dublin and his malign influence was one cause of their fall. When the party went out Sir Autony remained, rightly judging that he could do more harm to British now announced a substantial measure of Home Rule for next year. Of course the Government are free to disown it. So Minister, but the latter said something that way we shall have it. And Mr Red mond is one of the masters of His Majesty's

The long duration of the Unionist power is popularly supposed to have filled the bench of Bishops with High Churchmen of Tory leanings and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is credited with the intention of correcting this disproportion by the BEST appointment of a number of Liberals.
